President's Podium

Our national academy, the American Academy of Certified Public Managers® (AACPM), celebrated its 25th Anniversary this year. Several KSCPM members attended the Conference in Boise, Idaho on Sept. 22-25 to celebrate its anniversary and participate in the many educational sessions. The theme of the event, "Soaring to New Heights in Leadership," was a good choice for the event which provided attendees with outstanding keynote speakers and breakout sessions focusing on various aspects of leadership - developing support for change, effective introductions, achieving work-life balance, effective communication strategies, and current risks associated with using social media, email and internet.

One of our KSCPM members, Ande Godsey, was recognized for being a Kenneth K. Henning Award nominee. Congratulations to Ande for all of his hard work in the society over the years!

Report on the Summer Luncheon Meeting

The Kentucky Society of Certified Public Managers® (KSCPM) held its summer speaker luncheon July 24th on the campus of Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond. This year's speaker, Mr. Mike Keyser, with the Department of Criminal Justice Training, provided a presentation looking at what's the most important area to focus on when hiring someone: Education, Training or Experience? He examined the importance of these three areas when looking to bring a new employee on board and how they interrelate. Attendees also got to hear about the "Advanced Instructors Training" program currently offered at the Department of Criminal Justice Training. Mr. Keyser ended the program by discussing the importance of education, training and experience and encouraged attendees to be a continuous student.
